Examiner: Adam Arciero S.N. 10/565,897 Art Unit: 1795 July 8, 2009

DETAILED ACTION

1. The Applicant's amendment filed on February 12, 2009 was received. Claims 27-52 are currently pending. Claims 39-52 are withdrawn from consideration. Claim 27 is amended. Claim 34 is cancelled.

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Objections

3. The claim objection to claim 37 is withdrawn, because Applicant has amended claim 37.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The claim rejections under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Uetake and Brown et al. on claims 27-33 and 35-38 are withdrawn because Applicant's arguments are persuasive.

5. Claims 27-33 and 35-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Uetake (WO 02/058177), see correspond Uetake (US Patent 7,226,699 for translation) in view of Komiya (US 2004/013925 A1).

As to Claims 27-29 and 35-38, Uetake discloses proton conductor (ionic conductor) comprising a proton dissociative group (ion-dissociative group) bonding to a fullerene group (derivative carbonaceous substance) and polyvinyl alcohol, polyvinylidene fluoride and polyfluoroethylene (polymer comprising a basic group) (column 4 lines 60-68, column 5 lines 1-25 and column 10 lines 35-40). The fullerene derivative and the polyvinyl alcohol are dissolved in an organic solvent and printed. The water is vaporized off to formulate a proton conductor film (ion conductor) (column 11 lines 47-60). Uetake does not specifically disclose wherein the polymer of said substance having said basic group is a polymer of a compound containing at least any one of a nitrogen atom, an oxygen atom and a sulfur atom.

However, Komiya teaches of a proton conductive solid polymer electrolyte comprising a polymer having a basic group and containing at least one of a nitrogen atom, an oxygen atom and a sulfur atom, such as polyvinylimidazole (pg. 3, [0035]). At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the proton conductor of Uetake with polyvinylimidazole, because Komiya teaches that the proton conductivity of a polymer electrolyte for a fuel cell is improved (pg. 4, [0040]-[0041]).

As to Claim 30, Uetake discloses a proton dissociative group (ion-dissociative group) is an acidic functional group (column 5 lines 9-15).

As to Claim 31, Uetake discloses the proton dissociative group introduced to the carbon atoms and polyvinyl alcohol in an amount not less than about 20% (col. 10 lines 25-35).

As to Claim 32, Uetake discloses a proton conductor comprising a proton dissociative group $-\text{SO}_3\text{H}$ (ion-dissociative group) (column 5 lines 9-14). It is well known in the art that hydrogen (H) is a cation producible group.

As to Claim 33, Uetake discloses a proton conductor comprising a functional group – OPO(OH)₂. It is well known in the art that hydrogen (H) is a cation producible group.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments, see Remarks, filed October 22, 2009, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 27-33 and 35-38 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. A new grounds of rejection has been made above.
